SINGLE VOTE KILLS APPROPRIATION FOR COUNTY FARM AGENT

SUPERVISORS IN CLOSE FIGHT
ON GRANTING APPROPRIATION OF $1,000 FOR AGRICULTURAL AGENT.

DELEGATION APPEARS

Big Party of Farmers and Representatives of Janesville and Beloit Clubs for Measure.

HOW SUPERVISORS VOTED.

Ayes—Bingham, Dalton, Denning, Ebbett, Hopkins, Maxson, Morris, McDowen, O'Neil, Richardson, Samson, Smith, Snyder, Steele, Stony, Broadway, Wilford, Mosley, Total—18.
Noes—Anderson, Bennett, Clementson, Crall, Doty, Hafeman, Hansen, Hull, Lynch, Marquardt, McCarthy, Onsgard, Overton, Rehfeld, Shoemaker, Sykes, Tuller, Voltz, Warner, Total—18.
Absent—Austin, Paulson.

In the most spirited fight which has featured the annual meeting of the Rock county board of supervisors to date, the matter of an appropriation of the sum of $1,000 for the hire of an agricultural agent for the county, was killed by a single vote yesterday afternoon. Nineteen members voted against the appropriation and eighteen supervisors were in favor of the plan.

Incidentally the matter of a farm agent to head for the present session of the board seems set to reconsider their action.

Members in favor and those against the proposition, before the meeting yesterday predicted that the fight would be close. Two years ago when the matter came to a vote it was downed overwhelmingly by a vote of 23 to 9. It was pointed out, however, that this would not be the result yesterday, since the idea of progressive farming seems to be gaining more and more in Rock county. The predictions came true.

Headed by W. J. Dougan, perhaps one of the best known farmers of the state, Alva Snyder, W. A. Moore and W. C. Weirich of Beloit, and J. A. Craig and W. J. McDowell of this city and a delegation of between fifteen and twenty farmers, the party appeared before the board in the interest of getting the farm agent.

After the arguments pro and con had finally simmered down and when the ballot was being taken it was the turn of the board of supervisors to decide the result. Mr. Marquardt, throughout the discussion, announced himself at a loss as to what his position on the matter was. He was literally speaking "on the fence." At the roll call following Supervisor M. P. Richardson's motion when his name came he knew not which way to vote. The clerk passed on and called the remaining names. He then came back to Mr. Marquardt. Friends of the appropriation and its foes called in his ear, "Yes" and "No" as they voted his vote. Although they did not know it at the time, the vote was tied at eighteen all.

Marquardt finally voted, "No." The vote was counted and the appropriation killed.

The Plea Opens.
Chairman Mosley called on President J. A. Craig of the Janesville Commercial club, who introduced W. J. Dougan as the first spokesman. Mr. Dougan is recognized throughout Wisconsin and the middle west as one of the foremost exponents of efficient farming and progressive agriculture. Mr. Dougan explained that the idea of securing a competent and able man to work in harmony with the farmers to induce them to better methods and large crops was only originated on the day before and that the delegation present was hastily gotten together.

He said there was one phase upon which he would elaborate, that of guiding, directing and inspiring farmers to do better work. "It is highly imminent that we place Rock county first in Wisconsin. We have the richest country in the state but yet we have not had results favorably comparable with other counties, solely because we have not used what we have to the best advantage."

"Those farmers who have interested themselves in the state farm management and demonstration content, fully realize and know the importance of the agricultural agent. He is in touch with every farmer and every farm. He can keep better books, knows where he's at all the time and further, realizes the paying investments in the farm against those which are being kept at an annual loss."

"Wisconsin has originated a national movement in its farm management contest. Other states throughout the country are continually seeking information on our plan so as to be able to introduce it themselves. This contest is a great institution. It uses the county as the unit and with its record books and its contests, it better farmers for participation in the annual state meet."

"But to conduct these contests favorably and to the advantage of the county, there must be some direct head. The county agriculture agent is the man."

Mr. Dougan drew a verbal figure of the ideal farm agent. He must be a man who has had scholastic, college graduate work in an agricultural college; must be a practical man with practical managerial experience, calculated hands, good sense and one who has had some success in business and profited as a result of his observation in his mistakes.

In addition the agent must be that sort of man who can meet the farmers on their own ground and help them in all cases.

Alva Snyder, president of the Beloit Business Men's association, was the next speaker. He, too, was in favor of the measure and also furnished much seed for the "Winnebago county farmers. During the time the agent has been employed by the county hundreds of farms have been improved in value to the extent of at least $100,000 and fifty dollars per acre. Former worn-out farms, many non-productive tracts and other farms thrown into disuse have been made to yield crops.

Where the agent was employed, were an impossibility. "It only goes to prove," said Mr. Snyder, "that the co-operation of the farmer and the agent can bring results. The Winnebago county farmers would not dispose of their agent for any money now. They want the best man in the country that money can secure and they are willing to help pay for his hire because they know the advantages in return."

As president of the Beloit Business Men's association he announced that this organization was united in believing that the county should have the idea with a reasonable amount of money.

J. A. Craig spoke next. He told the supervisors that together the Line City and Janesville clubs were organized to give the sum of $1,000 for any term to keep the work up. These bodies were interested because they thought the idea a good thing. The two organizations were ready to lay their share of the money on the table for the board to take, but these bodies would have no say whatever in how it was to be used.

The board was to do with it as they pleased. It behooved us to further the agricultural agent and the interests of the county," Mr. Craig said in closing.

Progressive Farmers.
Ira Inman, a stock raiser from the town of Beloit spoke next and compared the advancement made in cattle breeding in Rock county with those of Marathon, a north central county. From Mr. Inman's discourse it was evident that Rock county was far in the rear of that of Marathon despite the fact that conditions in Rock are far more advantageous than in Marathon where the farms, in the great majority of cases, have but a few short years ago, been literally "washed out" by the forest. Marathon is the center of the pine stump district of the state, yet a town of the county shows the number of pure bred and pedigreed stock far in the rear of that of Rock county.

"Marathon county breeds with an object," said Mr. Inman, "while we here go plodding along with no set point in view. This would be different if there were a competent man in charge to show the entire county a definite course."

E. L. Benedict of the town of Clinton, also a livestock and dairy man, compared the strides Rock county had made in the past two years in the case of pure and pedigreed grains. In this way, he contended, the county would also advance were the agriculture agent employed.

At this point Supervisor Marshall Richardson introduced his resolution to the effect that for the term of two years the county appropriate the sum of $2,000, beginning January 1, 1917, and have $1,000 of this amount cover the expenses, as the county agent of an agricultural agent for Rock county, for each year.

Then the fireworks started. Supervisor J. A. Craig brought that farm institutes and the opportunities of farmers to send their sons to the school of agriculture, if they so desired, was fully enough without hiring a special agent.

Mr. Craig answered Mr. Austin's argument in relating that of the farm institutes Rock county last year had its full quota, three. "Two days here and two days there and it was all over," said Mr. Craig. "That was the extent of our farm institutes and the amount of knowledge we accumulated in the two short day sessions when the meetings were held in the three sections of the county, was very, very small."

Supervisor W. P. Marquardt of the town of Milton, the philosopher of the county board, was on the case as to where he stood on the question. And he readily admitted it himself. He announced himself as appreciative of the fact that the farmers but questioned whether the county agent would be a good thing or not. "We farmers are ignorant as a class," he said. "We could do better if we wanted to. It bothers many of us to read English and also to write in my own hand. We raise good crops and good stock up where I live and we are content. But I think that we are lazy and that if we really wanted to, we could do better. Surely, we would like to have such a man to ask questions of."

But in a canvass of my town I found not one-third of the farmers willing to tolerate this agent. I don't want to discourage this delegation, however, but I would like to hear from some more farmers."

Simon Smith's Idea.
Supervisor Simon Smith, of Beloit, arose and said he was not a farmer, never had been and never wanted to be. He thought that the idea was commendable and was willing to experiment on the venture for two years at least. "I'll vote anything towards progressiveness," he related. "If it don't pay, wipe it out at the end of two years, wipe it out. If it pays, it's a good thing and we'll only be too glad to keep it."

Supervisor F. R. O'Neal of Beloit, thought the move proper and progressive, but that the farmers must really be convinced to make it a success. He cited instances where Winnebago county where the farmer thought the presence and questions of the agricultural agent but a prying into his personal business. The farmer did not realize that it was essential for his welfare to answer and as a result was quite a while before he realized the advantages possible through co-operation with the agent.

Supervisors Overton, Hull and Snyder appeared in opposition to the proposition. After parleys back and forth the matter was finally brought to ballot and killed by one vote.

Whitewater News

Whitewater, Nov. 12.—Albert Yale died Wednesday evening at his home on Prairie street. The funeral will be Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Clarence Redding of Corner Grove, is here spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. G. H. Pierce.

The local fire truck was given a try-out yesterday and was doing fine until it attempted to cross the ditch left by the sewer diggers, when the two wheels on the left side sunk in to the hubs. It took some digging and planks before the truck was placed on solid ground.

Dr. J. F. Dunn of this city, and Dr. C. F. Dyke of Richmond, have gone to Rochester, Minn.

Evergreen is ready for the Milwaukee-Whitewater football game here Saturday for the southern championship of normal schools of the state. Both teams are in the pink of condition and a good hard contest is looked for. The way the boys figure out the local boys should have the edge on the Milwaukee team. Northwestern of Watertown was the only team to defeat Whitewater, with a score of 13 to 0. Whitewater defeated Platteville 52 to 0, while Milwaukee defeated the same team 22 to 0. Whitewater defeated Oshkosh 47 to 0.

But the visitors will have a good team and luck is always with them.

Warren J. Tatt died Wednesday evening at a Waubesa sanitarium, where he had been taken for treatment. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at his home on Cravath street.

Mrs. Mary Campbell is visiting at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Fern Rogers, at Hebron, Ill.

London, Nov. 12.—How a weary, dust covered British "Tommy" had the surprise of his life when given a "lift" in a military automobile on a country road in Northern France, has just been told in London.

Two officers were in the car. They talked to the "Tommy" and he soon told them his troubles. Soon he produced a picture of his best girl from one of his innermost pockets. The officers congratulated him on the good looks of his girl and he finally ventured:

"I suppose you, too, sir, carry a photograph of your girl?" The younger of the two officers replied: "Yes."

"Well, I've got my father's photo about me and I'll give you one if you want it. He produced a golden sovereign and slipped it into the "Tommy's" hand. On the sovereign was the head of King George "Tommy's" companions were the Prince of Wales and a brother officer.

FIRE DEPARTMENT HAVE TWO RUNS ON ALARMS

Quick and timely use of hand fire extinguishers at the vestry of the St. Patrick's church early this morning prevented a fire caused by the dropping of a match among loose cloth. The fire was put out before the arrival of the department at about eight o'clock.

Last evening between five and six o'clock the firemen put out a fire raging in the brush and undergrowth at the city dump located on the river bank at the foot of Western avenue. This is the second call the department have had to the dump within recent date.

SPORTS

FOOTBALL CALENDAR SATURDAY IS BEST OFFERED THIS YEAR

Conference Title at Stake in Two Games.—Princeton Meets Yale.—Harvard vs. Brown.

Games on Saturday will decide the fate of championships, both in the big nine conference and in the east, and in both places there are many bills scheduled which will attract national attention in the sporting fraternity. With Illinois claiming with Wisconsin at Urbana, Illinois stronghold and with Stagg's hopeful Maroons going into action against the Gophers at Minneapolis, the conference muddle caused by the tie game between Illinois and Minnesota will be unraveled. Chicago is the only undefeated team in conference, when one considers that if they win from Minnesota and Illinois beats the Badgers, and conference championship will go to the winner, the struggle between Chicago and Illinois a week later.

Everything considered, it looks as if Chicago was going to be defeated by the powerful Gophers, and that Wisconsin was going to lose to Illinois. The Badgers went down to defeat in the hands of Coach Stagg's Maroons, and the loss of Glavin has not helped the Badgers' chance now a bit. But than one strike has turned more than one cripple and sick players, who on the field are transformed into a fighting collection of players perfectly steady into the week when they play with any amount of modern football tricks to turn the tide. That is why they beat Wisconsin by one point. Stagg outguessed Wisconsin's mentor, Juncos. The Maroons have improved steadily and will present a formidable foe on the foreign field. Minnesota is represented by a mighty strong team more marked in the line, just where Chicago is lacking from present indications.

Wisconsin's chances are doubtful against Illinois. The Badgers at first looked to be world beaters, but their glory shined when they were outplayed and outgamed them. In her present condition, Wisconsin does not look to have a very bright chance of beating the present champions. Coach Zupke has two of the best backfield men and open field runners in the conference in Pease and Clark and Wisconsin is going to have trouble in stopping them. For slight injuries to these stars, Illinois will be in excellent trim for the home-staters and full of vim. Northwestern meets Indiana, with their silent system of signals and the Purple are hoping for two victories in a row, which would be almost equal to an earthquake at Evanston. Iowa plays Ames. Purdue will test their strength against Kentucky. The state title in colleges will result when Lawrence invades Ripon and Marquette plays Beloit. Marquette is expected to trim Beloit this year as the Gold eleven is woefully weak.

In the east there is a prize schedule of game. If Belovoev Princeton and Harvard not get a "count" about the outcome of their gridiron contests with Yale. If overconfidence enters into the Princeton rank Saturday, Yale is likely to give the Tigers a hard jolt. Five years ago Yale was almost as bad off as this year, when Shevlin came to the rescue in the late season and this man's coaching and punch counted so much that Yale beat Princeton and held Harvard to a 3 to 3 tie. Shevlin is back at Yale under the same circumstances and is working might and main to have the Blue make a creditable showing in her last two big games after a season of defeats. The Tigers had a hard crimp put into them by Harvard and should down Yale easily. Harvard goes up against Brown and will probably win by a small score. Haughton has his style of football drilled into the Crimson equal and the perfect machine out-guessed the Tigers last Saturday. He is booting the ball in wizard style and is punting better than any man in the game today. King, who is a player of the type of the invincible Wendell, Harvard's greatest plunging back.

Michigan with her weak team will tackle Penn at Philadelphia in an inter-sectional game. Michigan is strong enough this year to be a real representative of the west and doubts are held if the Wolverines will beat tackle Penn, Cornell meets Washington and Lee and should win hands down. Pittsburgh, who shares with Cornell, the alleged claim of being the strongest team in the east, will have an easy game with Carnegie. There is considerable discussion among the football experts whether Cornell could beat Illinois or Minnesota, strongest conference nines. Coach Zupke, Illinois' mentor, on returning from the game when Cornell walloped Michigan ventured the opinion that Minnesota could hold and even beat Cornell with the famous Gopher system of football and its strong line. One thing must be considered and that is, Cornell was at the height of her strength when she defeated Harvard and achieved her most glory while Harvard was just beginning to develop the final punch in her machine play under Haughton. Haughton's system of football is one which requires time to master, but once learned it is almost unbeatable. In general western critics say Minnesota could defeat Cornell and western critics refuse to admit that the Cornell team has a single weakness. Many paper men who saw Harvard defeat Princeton express doubts if Cornell could defeat the Crimson in her present prowess.

KILBANE IS BARRED FROM STATE RINGS BY COMMISSION

Milwaukee, Nov. 12.—Johnny Kilbane, champion featherweight of the world, was indefinitely suspended by the state boxing commission for failing to appear before the boxing board Thursday to answer a charge of stalling in a bout with Ritchie Mitchell in Milwaukee. The suspension will stand until the champion appears and explains to the satisfaction of the commission with regards to his failure to appear.

MILLERS LOSE GAME TO ROCKFORD FIVE

Team From Rockford Shows Real Class in Bowling.—Cronin's Dairy Five Win from Myers Bunch Again.

Last night at the Miller alleys the showed Miller's team from Rockford real bowling was like and rolled 275 pins, winning by a margin of 151. DeLong from Rockford rolled the event with 247 pins. Richards and Cook of Janesville showed some real class and rolled over the two hundred mark.

Cronin's Win. On the downstairs alleys the Cronin Dairy team won another game from the Myers Hotel squad by over two hundred and fifty pins. Thomas Cronin is starting everyone with his high scores. He struck the two hundred mark and was tied with Abraham for high score, who also rolled two hundred.

In the afternoon yesterday the Roundhouse bowling five won a game from the Dairy by a score margin of sixty-five pins. The line-ups for the three games are as follows:

FLOOD IS SUSPENDED FROM THE MAROON TEAM

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] Chicago, Nov. 12.—Maroon chances to beat Minnesota Saturday received a setback when Harry Flood, varsity fullback, was barred from the team for failures in studies. Pete Russell, the Maroon star, was questioned on his qualifications to play, but all doubts have been erased.

BADGERS IN NEW LINE-UP FOR THE ILLINOIS GAME

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] Madison, Nov. 12.—When the Wisconsin eleven lines up against the Illinois team at Urbana tomorrow, the make-up of the eleven will be decidedly different from that which the Badgers have played this year. It is not expected that Myers, the Badgers' speediest back, will play in the game because of injuries. Lynn Smith, who has been out of the real work this week, is almost sure to start the game.

Wisconsin followers see that their line must show a decided improved power before they can hold Illinois with their stellar backfield.

BELOIT BOXING MATCH WILL BE HELD NOV. 23RD

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] Announcements were made that the boxing matches of the Line City association, the first of the year, will be held at Beloit on Tuesday, November 23rd. Young Scotty, the Janesville favorite featherweight, will appear in the semi-windup, against a fast 122 pounder named Flynn of Chicago. Jack Redmond and Young White, lightweight, will box ten rounds in the main exhibition. Four bouts are to be carded.

STATE COLLEGE TITLE WILL HINGE ON RESULT OF GAME AT BELOIT SATURDAY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] Beloit, Wis., Nov. 12.—There was only a small chance that the Wisconsin state championship would be decided by tomorrow's annual battle between Marquette and Beloit. Should Marquette win, as is expected, it would merely mean—by the comparative score route—that Marquette and Ripon have equal claim to the title. Ripon and Marquette played a 7 to 7 tie recently. Of course, if Beloit wins, the Beloiters will claim, and much right to, the state pennant.

COLUMBIA AND YALE CREWS RACE IN NEW HAVEN HARBOR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] New Haven, Conn., Nov. 12.—Weather conditions permitting, the Columbia and Yale varsity eight crew crews plan to hold their first race in many years on the harbor here at 8:30 this afternoon. The course will be 1½ miles.

WILL TEST STATE GAME LAW ON TRAPPING OF MUSKRATS IN OCTOBER

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] New London, Wis., Nov. 12.—The law which forbids trapping before November 15, instead of October 15, will be fought by trappers in the Fox river valley. Trappers say that muskrats are more numerous than ever and the price of fur is high. A test case will be made before the courts by the trappers.

J. H. S. SECONDS WILL PLAY BELOIT SECONDS

Second Teams From Two Schools Will Clash On the Local Gridiron Tomorrow Afternoon.

Tomorrow afternoon the second team of the high school will play a return game with the Beloit seconds. The first game was played down at the Line city and the Janesville seconds met defeat with a score of twenty-two to nothing. The lineup will be "strengthened" somewhat from the other lineup that was used in the last game. Coach Keck has been sending his bunch through drills every night and they all feel confident that they will get revenge for their defeat.

Beloit seconds are a very strong eleven and they have played more games than the local team. The probable lineup for the game tomorrow will be as follows: Cullen or Davy, center; Slater, Weirick, guards; Gagan, Crowley and Hunt, guards; McDermott, quarter; Waite, Kenning, half backs; Welsh, full back; Viney and Falter, ends. The game will be played at the fair grounds and will be called at two thirty sharp.

Pay attention to this—

PAY attention to your clothes, Sir—see that they're not "Tom, Dick and Harry" styles—that the woollens haven't been made to sell in car load lots, that a battery of sewing machines hasn't tried unsuccessfully to imitate the craft of the journey-man tailor.

Pay attention to those things—they're important. See that your clothes are custom tailored—to fit you, to please you, to lift you out of the "every day" class.

Custom Tailoring guarantees the correctness of your appearance, respect for your taste, admiration for your wardrobe. And no successful substitute has ever been found.

WEATHER FORECAST.

A PERSONAL LOSS.

Perhaps the most significant—and to the democrats the most surprising—result of the by-elections was the demonstration that Woodrow Wilson not only is not stronger than his party, but is even weaker. In the president's own state, New Jersey, only seven of the twenty-one counties went democratic. In Massachusetts, where the popular slogan of the democrats was "A vote for Walsh is a vote for Wilson," former Representative Samuel McCall defeated Walsh by a considerable majority. In the twenty-third New York congressional district the chief weapon of Ellsworth J. Healy, the democratic candidate, was an enthusiastically eulogistic letter from President Wilson, which Mr. Healy read from the stump on all occasions. W. S. Bennett, the republican nominee, was elected by a handsome majority. The president and his son-in-law, Secretary Taft, had made a strenuous effort to influence the elections in New York state, but the republican gains up state clearly indicate to all unprejudiced observers that New York's big electoral vote will be found in the republican column next year. Three republican congressmen were elected in New York, elections being made necessary by the death of the incumbents. The democrats have been contending, without any reason whatever, that President Wilson was stronger than his party. And this despite the fact that every thing his party has done since he came into office has been at his direct and specific mandate, there never having been a time when congress was so completely subordinated to the executive will. But in the light of the election returns, and recalling that in 1912 Mr. Wilson polled 2,000,000 less than a majority of the votes cast, the democrats are sadly at sea and their blind faith in their leader has been badly shattered.

With a lot of peace-loving Americans across the line at Agua Prieta, right where they will get hit by stray bullets, the conditions are just right to encourage the Mexicans to go on fighting.

If President Wilson is seen sitting at the telephone instrument a long time, he may not be getting revelations of the bomb plots, but merely fixing up next week's dates with Mrs. Galt.

FORMER ALBION MAN
DIES IN WASHINGTON

Professor of Notre Dame University and Former Resident of Albion, Well Known Here, Died in Washington Hospital.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Milton, Nov. 12.—Professor Edward

Lee Green, one of America's greatest botanists, for years connected with the Smithsonian Institute and a former resident of Albion, well known to citizens of Milton, died Wednesday morning in Providence hospital,

Washington. At the time of his death he was member of the faculty of Notre Dame university. He was born in Hopkinton, R. I., in the year of 1853.

Dr. Greene was engaged in botanical work for over thirty years and contributed much to the development of the science by his research work and writings. He was president of the international congress of botanists at the world's fair in 1893. He was for a number of years instructor in the University of California, Leland Stanford University and the Catholic University of America.

Dr. Greene owned a botanical library of over 4,000 volumes, valued at $40,000, and his herbarium is probably the most valuable collection of botanical specimens in the United States.

Among his works are: "Plantae Bakerianae," "Pflanzen der Botanischen Observations," "Manual of the Botany of the Bay Region of San Francisco," and "West American Oaks."

A. G. Crosby, who was operated on for acute appendicitis at Mercy hospital Tuesday, is doing as well as can be expected.

AS WE GROW OLDER

Our minds are quite as active as in former years but our strength does not respond when we need it most; perhaps the kidneys are weak, the liver torpid, rheumatic pains or stiffened joints beset us, and we cannot easily throw off the colds that winter brings.

What we need is the rich cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion to renew the blood and carry strength to every organ of the body, while its glycerine soothes the respiratory tract, and its hypophosphites strengthen the excitable nerves.

Scott's Emulsion is a scientific oil-food, of unusual benefit to those past fifty years—particularly during the colder seasons, it imparts warmth and creates strength. One bottle will prove its worth. No alcohol or harmful drugs.

WONDERFUL CAT ACT AT APOLLO

Three Other Good Offerings Compose the Vaudeville Bill.

On the bill at the Apollo this week is a wonderful animal act, "The Wonderful Cat." The spectators marvel as to how these feline pets could have been trained to do such a variety of tricks. The cat is of grace and rare specimens of beauty delighted everyone last night.

Edith Mote makes the quickest changes in costume of any act of her kind seen here before. She sings beautifully and last time when the orchestra can play the opening bars she is out from behind her velvet drop in a different gown, which by the way are quite classy.

From the Alabama Jubilee consisting of two ladies and three male comedians and comedy in a way to give their audiences a good entertainment.

The three Alvarettos are comedy actors. They present a pantomime novelty, "The Three Mouths," that gives them opportunities of doing some clever stunts.

This bill will remain at the Apollo until Sunday night.

EDITH STOREY SHOWS WONDERFUL TALENT

Appears at Majestic in "Island of Regeneration."

In this feature film, based on the story of the same name by Cyrus Townsend Brady, the Vitagraph have something of which they can be justly proud. The stars are magnificent, the story has been well developed, the work of almost all of the characters being well done and appealing, and the settings and exterior locations have been exceptionally well chosen and photographed. The illusion of the earthquake and storm has also been unusually good. It is a fine film. The work of Antonio Moreno as John Charnock, Jr. and that of Edith Storey as Katherine Brenton, is worthy of special comment. They are hard parts to handle and yet have been true, but they have both succeeded. It is an interesting story in the unfolding, and the details have been so worked out that you are held through every scene. In one part of the film Miss Storey does some Annette Kellerman feats, which are quite pretty and very well done—yes, very well done. The character which she plays out particularly, however, is that of the boy, who has grown to manhood on this desert isle. This bit of work has been put over in a way which is absolutely convincing and appealing and yet at times amusing, as intended. Altogether it is very much worth while.

The picture will be shown for the last time tonight at 7:30 and 9:00.

MARY PICKFORD
COMING MONDAY

The Apollo announces Mary Pickford in "Esmeralda" Monday for four showings. A special children's matinee will be given after school at 4:15 o'clock with a special children's price of 6 cents.

Concerning Trousers.

This purports to be a communication received by a ladies' aid society: Dear Sir: I write you because I find your name in the tobacco pocket of my pants which you give to the Baptist women. If you have any more pants to give away send it to me to Loganville, they are a lot of shillies timber cusses here till you don't know where your pants go. If you don't send it to me, I'll send it to you.

AT THE PRINCESS.

Hobart Bosworth and Jane Novak in "The Scarlet Sin" Tonight.

"The Scarlet Sin" promises to be the sensation of the local dramatic season when it visits the Princess tonight. Hobart Bosworth and Jane Novak play the leading roles in the drama. The story is taken from the Fifth Avenue to a western mining camp and shows a minister fighting against the infidelity of his wife, the physical opposition of a miner known as "The Brute," at the same time a mine horror in which hundreds of lives are lost, is taking place. The scenario of this remarkable photodrama was written by James Dayton Clark.

AT MYERS THEATRE.

The merry, melodious musical comedy "Luxury" with the original cast, stunning chorus and scenic effects as was seen during the run of the play at the Casino Theatre, New York, will appear at the Myers Theatre on Friday, Nov. 19.

"Luxury" is the joint work of Rida Johnson Young, who wrote "Naughty Marietta," and William Schroeder who composed the music of "When Love Is Young."

The production was staged by R. H. Burnside, who has to his credit the reputation of successfully staging most of New York's musical comedy hits.

Among the prominent members of the cast who will appear are: Arthur Albro, Joseph Herbert, Eddie Morris, Fritz von Busing, Emily Fitzroy, Gipsy Dale, Sam J. Burton, the famous Bertha Madcaps and a large chorus of not only can sing and dance, but which is of equal importance would enhance the beauty of any drawing room, for each and every member of the personification of refinement, elegance and good looks.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Good Things in Store.

Coming programs at the Majestic show unusual care in their selection, and include many productions of the same high order as "The Juggernaut," "Graustark" and "The Islands of Regeneration," the last of which is being shown now.

A return date of the dashing romance, "Captain Alvarez," with Edith Storey coming next Tuesday and Wednesday, and will be followed by "Sins of the Mothers," a really tremendous drama with Anita Stewart and Earle Williams. Later will come "The King of Kings," "The Official Wife," Viola Allen in "The White Sister," Edna Mayo in "The Blindness of Virtue," William Farnum in "The Plunderer," Theda Bara in "A Fool There Was," and other pictures of like quality.

The Majestic will largely limit itself to the showing of big stars in big five and six-reel productions, all to be shown for two days or more.

The pictures of the same caliber it has already shown, including "The Island of Regeneration," which can be seen for the last time tonight, have been eminently satisfactory to the picturegoers of the city, and further announcements will be looked forward to with interest.

AT THE APOLLO.

"The Melting Pot" Coming Tuesday and Wednesday.

When Walker Whiteside, in Israel Zangwill's "The Melting Pot," created the role of David Quixano, the temperamental Jewish boy who exalted a musical masterpiece under the inspiration of the sufferings of his people, theatergoers left the theater with the theme of the play strong in their minds.

When Walker Whiteside recreated the role in the film version of the play which opened recently at the Fine Arts theater, the spectators left the theater with the theme of the story beating in their hearts.

This famous drama will be seen at the Apollo on Tuesday and Wednesday, matinee and night. Seats now selling for the evening performances.

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—You Couldn't Want Any Better Proof Than Angeline—

BY F. LEIPZIGER

Remove Waste Matter That Causes Sickness

"I cheerfully recommend Foley Cathartic Tablets to any one suffering with constipation or biliousness." George Jenner, 416 Labor St., San Antonio, Texas.

When the bowels are clogged with a mass of poisonous waste, biliousness, sick headache, sour stomach, bloating gases, and general discomfort result. A wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic that will move off the congested mass without griping or nausea is Foley Cathartic Tablets. Take them at bed time, and the next morning you will find a grateful relief, without any discomfort, headache or unpleasant after effects.

They keep the liver healthily active, promote digestion, and shut out headaches and ill-humors. Ask your druggist.

To Have Smaller Feet.

The sex will rejoice to hear that an English scientist declares that women's feet are growing smaller. He claims that a study of former types of feet goes to prove that the feet of modern people are more shapely than those of their ancestors or those of the savage races. Perhaps, after all, the mistakes of ill-fitting shoes have not seriously deformed the general type of foot.

To Put On Flesh And Increase Weight

Most people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all bosh to say that this is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Most thin people stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay there in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition it is well to recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not as some believe a patented drug, but is simply a careful combination of six of the most effective and powerful assimilative and flesh building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet has been wonderfully effective and a single tablet eaten with each meal often, according to reports of users, has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week. Sargol is sold by all good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.—Advertisement.

The Heart of Night Wind

A Story of the Great Northwest

She did not go near the man in the office. Instead she rode afar on Black Bolt. Hour upon hour she spent on the ridges, sitting with her knees clasped in her arms and her suffering eyes sweeping the dropping hills. Not for a moment did she doubt Sandy. He had kissed her. That was sufficient. She was his woman. With the voicing of the fact that night in Kolawmie's house it had come to be a part of her daily thoughts. Only with it there had come a mighty yearning for perfection. What would Sandy have her do or be? That would she do and be. To Black Bolt and Coosah she took her trouble, faithful lovers who nudged her breast with a soft nose, licked her hand and watched her with wistful eyes.

So the camp went forward. John and his silent crew cut steadily into the timber at the north and sent the logs down to the backwater. Here he kept a guard, for although there was nothing of importance that Hampden could do since he had played for the Dillingworth contract and failed, still he could steal the logs which lay all too close to the mill at the mouth of the slough—and John Daily was strung to a higher pitch than he had ever been in all his lifelong timber war with the Yellow Pines.

As soon as Sandy was able to bear it, Daily told him of the safe delivery of the raft, of his trip home in the Indians' sling, of his subsequent delirium, and at last showed him the big check. At sight of the paper, sweat and creased from pocket-wear, the sick man's face flushed and his eyes sparkled with blue flame.

"We won, John," he said, "we all won—you, I, Miss Ordway and—Sletz."

There was a little pause before the last word and then he went on. "I want to shake hands with us all when I'm able. We're a winning bunch."

As soon as Daily had gone Poppy Ordway leaned so close that the subtle perfume of her garments intoxicated him strangely, and said exultantly:

"And now for Hampden, Walter—I'm ready to go after him right."

Sandy looked up at her from his pillow and then out along the spring-tinted hills, and drew his brows together in thought.

Presently he spoke. "You've been so good to me—I can't say how good, how much you have stood for me here—but—but, if you please, Miss Ordway—Poppy, my friend—I'd rather you'd let Hampden alone."

"What?" cried Poppy aloud, while all her instincts were clamoring for adjustment. "What do you mean, Walter Sandy?"

"Can't you see, you clever woman, that I must get Hampden myself? That this score must be settled first-hand?"

And Ma Daily, coming softly along the grass to the door, heard the words.

"Known it," she said with a sharp satisfaction, "he's a man an' I knowed it from 'th' start."

CHAPTER XIX.

A Lie and a Theft. Sandy recovered rapidly. His youth and little strength were powerful aids and the broken bones inside the plaster casts knitted busily. With his return to consciousness, Miss Ordway relaxed her vigilance. She gave up her place without protest to Ma Daily and began to spend a part of her days in the little room. This had been Sandy's urgent request.

"See what you've lost already in time and strength and energy," he pleaded, "please go to your own work."

On one of the first days of Ma Daily's attendance, he asked to see Sletz.

emotions flushed his face as he called her softly. "Come here, Sletz," he heard himself saying, though for his life it was not what he wished to say, and she came and dropped on her knees beside him, clasping her hands on the sheet at his side. There was nothing of the conscious avowal of Poppy's words in her look and attitude, only the simple betrayal of a nature as open as the day. The shining light of joy in her face, the hushed acknowledgment of God's sparing of his life, was all-sufficient. In a flash he heard the words of Kolawmie's half-breed: "—for Sletz is your woman."

And he knew they were true. By every sign of her soul and body they were true, as simply as the flower we ships the sun all day. And there in the little south room, from whose open window he could hear the click of a typewriter, was the most, brilliant woman of his own world whom he had ever known, a woman soon to be famous for her great gift and her marvelous beauty—and she, too, by her open word was "his woman!"

"Little Sletz," he said, though he had meant to use her name alone, "Little Sletz—"

But what he would have said was left unspoken, for Ma Daily creaked in the doorway with a bowl of broth.

"My goodness, ma," he said whimsically, "if you don't stop filling me with broth I'll refuse to eat at all. I want a slice of ham and some of your incomparable rice pudding."

"You want what you get. You sip this all."

As Sandy obediently finished the last drop, the general reached in the capacious pocket of her dish apron.

"Here," she said, "see what I found." She held squarely before his eyes a little red morocco notebook, opened at a page far to the back.

Miss Ordway dropped it as she rode off on the bay this mornin' an' I picked it up."

Without volition, Sandy glanced at the white page, which held a few neatly tabulated notes.

"We ought not to read it, ma," he was saying, "it may be private."

Then a change came over his features and involuntarily he peered closer.

Ma's keen, old eyes were upon his face and she saw it slowly lose what little color returning life had given it, saw a look of bewilderment, of amaze and something very like fear settle down upon it, drawing the features, tightening the skin. He stared hard at the few scant notes, then raised dilated eyes to her.

"Are you sure, ma, sure?" he asked in a strangely altered voice.

"Sure? Ever know me to speak when I wa'n't sure, son?" said the general grimly.

For, though the notes on the page were so few and so meaningless to an outsider, it was plain that they had fallen under the one pair of eyes whose owner they most vitally concerned.

This was what Walter Sandy read:

her bowl, put the little red book in her pocket and took Sletz away to the noon work, leaving the man for the first time alone. Of a wide and cunning knowledge was this old handler of men. She knew that he would think best in solitude.

"Mother," said Sletz as they passed up the path, "she never dropped that." "Course not. I lied an' stole both, but it's worth while. There's something threatenin' Sandy, an' though he's pretty weak to be worried, it's best he should know."

And in the meantime Poppy Ordway was talking to Hampden on the Sletz road. The man was passionate, forceful, a little worried by her long absence from their rides, and he used every persuasion at his command to win her from the Daily camp.

"What for do you want to stay there?" he begged.

"Don't you know I am writing a lumber story?"

"Sure. But why can't you come to the Yella Pines?"

"And have the country talking? I ride with you too much for that. I have a reputation in the great world that I can't afford to lose in the little one."

"But they say you're goin' to marry that da—beg yer pardon—that Johnny Eastern. That so? For God's sake, girl, don't say it!"

Hampden's red face was pale, and she enjoyed seeing this coarse, bull-like man shaken to his foundations.

"And what if it is?"

"I'll kill him! So help me heaven, I'll get him next—I tell you I can't stand for that!"

"Get him next time," she was saying swiftly to herself, "oh, Hampden, I fancy there'll be a lot of getting—whether or not Walter Sandy wants me to quit—now, after all I've gone through with you to get my line staked out!"

Aloud she said at the same time, "No—it isn't true." And Hampden caught her hand and kissed it.

March crawled by and April—May came in with the feel and look of summer—as it does in the western hills, warm and bright and eternally sunny. Sandy wondered if it had ever rained.

Any exertion tired him cruelly, so he loafed about the office, sat on the east porch at the cook-shack, and talked idly with the three women, for Poppy Ordway, despite Ma Daily's coldness and hints, and Sletz's silence, still stayed on at the camp. Often Sandy watched her with a puzzled look in his eyes which all her cleverness had failed to fathom.

There was a slight constraint between them.

The work of the camp went on well. A bunch of lumberjacks from Sacramento had come in during April, and Sandy took them on. The Portland Lumber company received the second raft, a smaller one, by the middle of May, and followed its receipt with another order that would keep all hands and extra help at work until August. The pressing mortgage had been lifted by that first big check and the young owner felt his spirit surging within him like the growing year.

His only worry was the fact that Hampden was building track and a log-trail into the strip between camp and the East Belt from the south.

He evidently meant to begin operations under Sandy's very eyes.

"Walter," asked Miss Ordway, "how long are you going to wait before letting me use my lever to pry Hampden off?"

She watched him with narrowed eyes. The strange reticence, the embarrassed reserve that had fallen upon Sandy of late and for which she could not account, kept his glance from hers as he answered:

"Until I am able to go to Salem."

The woman's exquisite cheeks flamed a dull crimson under their rose-leaf pink—the heavy hue of anger—but she only smiled.

"And I cannot help?" she asked wistfully.

Sandy laughed, constrainedly. "I'll have to get him myself," he reiterated, "and I can't fight him with my fists—though, by heaven, I'd like to!"

At that moment Sletz came around the corner of the house and Sandy's eyes went to her as helplessly as the needle to the north and in them came instantly an expression of wistful sadness.

That look sent a cold chill to the passionate heart of Poppy Ordway and in a flash she made a decision. The danger in Sletz was drawing near, she knew, though Sandy himself was unaware of it.

"So it's going to be a fight?" she thought, while a sick rage hurried her breath; "all right! I guess I'll have to use all my power."

though Miss Ordway was smiling sweetly at the girl, she knew that his face was going gray.

"Yes?" he asked unsteadily. The tone pierced her heart with a pain that stung, but she put it resolutely aside. She had determined to have this man by fair means or foul and she knew that in the future she would repay him for any pain she might cause in the process of winning him.

"Yes," she answered quietly, "but I'm coming back. I want to see my publishers."

CHAPTER XX.

A Cruel Weapon.

In the sober correct offices of Farnsworth & Heathcote, one of New York's most solid and reputable law firms, two persons sat talking.

The honest roses in the cheeks of Miss Poppy Ordway bloomed gloriously. Her raiment whispered silkily when she moved her splendid shoulders a bit more comfortably against the mahogany chair-back.

"And now, Mr. Farnsworth," she was saying, "can you give me the full particulars of that mysterious robbery?"

The eminent lawyer's quiet eyes were taking pleasureable note of the woman's beauty, the concise handling of the discussion in hand.

"As one of the attorneys for the estate of James B. Whitby, I think I am qualified to do so," he stated gravely.

"Then," said Poppy Ordway, opening a little red morocco notebook at a page far to the back, "let us proceed."

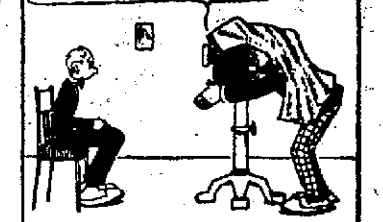

Mr. Farnsworth spread out before him a set of papers.

Dinner Stories

"James," said the teacher to the little boy who was being kept after school, "I am surprised that I should have to punish you in this way. You are usually such a very good boy that I could hardly believe my eyes when I saw you throwing spitballs at the little girl across the aisle from you. Surely you must have known that was against the rules."

"Yes," said James, "I knew it. Then why did you do it?"

"Well, teacher, you see, Bill Hicks promised me at recess that he was going to lick me as soon as school was out, and I thought if I could get kept in maybe he'd go away and forget about it."

The lawyer was cross-examining a witness.

"Do you happen to know," he asked, "what time it was when the wife of the deceased stepped into the taxicab in front of the National bank?"

"Yes," replied the witness, "it was just seventeen minutes past one, eh? Now, will you please tell the jury how you happen to be so positive that it was precisely seventeen minutes past one?"

"Certainly," said the witness. "The lady was wearing an ankle watch."

Here are five ways in which you get fooled in buying paint:

- The paint is stuffed out with chalk or something like that.
- With barytes; better than chalk; doesn't "cover;" you don't know its there.
- Benzine, or water, in the oil.
- Too much liquid, whatever it is, for the solid; paint too thin.
- Short measure.

COMB SAGE TEA IN LIFELESS, GRAY HAIR

Look Young! Common Garden Sage and Sulphur Darks so Natural—ly Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Yellish Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old time recipe, ready to use for about 10 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Yellish Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

TAXPAYERS' LEAGUE WILL CONTINUE WORK

PROSPECTS DECLARED BRIGHT FOR FURTHER SUCCESSFUL WORK BY HOME-RULE LEAGUERS.

SEEK MORE TAX CUTS

Meeting Held Yesterday Showed Sentiment Was for Further Retrenchment of State Expenses.

Evidently the Wisconsin Home Rule and Taxpayers' League sees the need of further retrenchment in state expenses, for from what can be learned from Janesville members, it was decided at the executive and very private meeting held yesterday afternoon from two until four o'clock at the city hall assembly rooms, that the league will continue in its efforts pointing toward economy in state government. Members laid stress that the meeting was for the sole purpose of learning the sentiments of members and friends of the organization and for the two-fold purpose of obtaining finances with which to continue the work in the future.

President Charles E. Pierce reported that letters, numbering about one hundred, had been sent out to those interested in the organization and over ninety replies were received and brought up before the meeting. President Pierce stated that the trend of these letters from the representatives of the various political districts of the state was that the Home Rule and Taxpayers' League had done some good work and that there was further need to "get-together" for the purpose of promoting economy in state government. It was made plain that the efforts of the league were to lend energy to educate the people of Wisconsin to the exact condition of state affairs and above all to bring about a reduction in expenditures.

It was pointed out that if economy in the state legislature was effected, the ultimate effect would be to have the same economy effect in county and city government toward the saving of the people's money throughout the state. It was evident that the Home Rule League firmly believed that they had not yet completed what they had undertaken. President Pierce showed a chart of the recent state tax levy and remarked with meaning that it was of vital interest to the league. As to how much it interested or why, the answer was not forthcoming.

While there was only a handful of men present at the meeting, a number of those present, it is understood, were there as representatives of persons or parties interested in state politics. No names were given out as to who the letters had been sent to, but it was favorable in sentiment to the continuation of the organization.

When asked as to the plans of the financing of the league, it was said that those present believed in the best policy for men interested in the league to individually contribute a small amount to the support, and not to solicit or receive money from any party, corporation or individual on the grounds that the league was strictly non-partisan in its work and did not wish to be responsible to any party or man.

The idea of government by the people appeared to be the main issue that the Home Rule League were seeking, and indirectly it was reported that the remarks of President Van Hise of the state university given at the teachers' convention at Milwaukee, did not get by the league without adverse comment. The doctrine as spoken by Van Hise, namely that the government should be by experts, while the league upholds the principle of home rule in so far as good government results. If one could have been present at the session, it is probable that he would have heard some complimentary remarks about Van Hise's suggestion of commission rule in the state and the university muddling in politics.

One man, John W. Groves, former mayor of Madison, criticized the stand of Van Hise in terse terms, and pointed out that "horse sense" from the farmers and people aided with a proper but limited advice from tax experts, was the happy medium to a successful end.

When President Pierce was asked what the league's attitude was toward the administration of Governor Philip, the answer brought out the fact that the league wanted to see more cuts in the state expenses to lower the taxes. The last legislature was blamed in the statement for playing too much politics in the spending of the people's money, and all the faults could not be cured by Governor Philip. However, it was said that present state issues were not discussed at the meeting.

No resolutions were passed and it was explained that officers would be elected some time this spring at an undecided meeting place.

"Was there any discussion, resolution or talk of raising money for the financing of the court suit now pending against President Charles E. Pierce?" one of the members was asked.

"There was not a single word said about the matter," replied one of the members.

"What were the prospects of securing the needed money?" was asked of M. G. Jeffris.

"The outlook is very promising and bright," was the answer.

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF LAW FOR CONTINUATION OF SCHOOLS MAY BE TESTED IN COURTS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison, Wis., Nov. 12.—The constitutionality of the law providing for continuation of schools may be tested in the courts. The state law provides that if the city must appropriate a certain sum for this purpose, the state makes it compulsory for the state to contribute to the support of the industrial schools. The validity of the law is being questioned by some of the members of the Madison common council, but City Attorney Ryan has ruled that the city must make contributions for the support until the matter has been passed upon by the courts. Alderman Afford, who is opposed to the law, has intimated that he may have the matter taken into the courts.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Wadel and daughter, Elsie, and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Lehman and children attended "The Birth of a Nation" at the Myers theatre in Janesville last Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rummage and Mr. and Mrs. Charley Rinehimer attended the tabernacle meeting at Beloit Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Arnold and family spent the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Horkey, spent last Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rummage of Brodhead.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Butler, from near Janesville, were at A. C. Rinehimer's Wednesday.

MRS. HANNAH FRITZ DIES AT MONROE

Monroe, Wis., Nov. 13.—Mrs. Hannah Fritz, a resident of this city for the past twenty years, passed away at her home on East street after a four year illness. She was 74 years of age and was confined to her bed, suffering from a general breakdown, due to old age. Mrs. Fritz was a native of Germany and was 86 years of age. She came to America with her parents in 1839 and was one of the early pioneers of Green county. Her husband, David Fritz, passed away 25 years ago. She is survived by two children, Henry and Fritz, and Miss Louise Fritz, both of this city.

MAGNOLIA

Magnolia, Nov. 11.—Mrs. D. Silverthorn is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark this week.

Miss Ruth Acheson spent last Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Crystal Stedman at Footville.

Nelson Clarke of Milton Junction was a very pleasant caller on his mother, Mrs. C. L. Clarke, last Saturday. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. Sturges of Milton, making the trip in the latter's car.

Messrs. Charles Briggs and T. M. Harper were Brodhead callers Thursday.

E. Acheson is treating his store to a second coat of paint.

GERMAN PRINCESS PASSES EXAMINATION AS SCHOOL TEACHER

Berlin, Nov. 12.—Probably the only princess in the Empire who is a school teacher is the 30-year-old Princess Marie Adelaide of Lippe, who has just passed her examinations for teaching in the common schools in her principality.

Princess Marie is the daughter of Prince Rudolf, and a cousin of the reigning prince, Leopold IV. During the war she will take the place of her principality.

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at Once When Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers —Meat Forms Uric Acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure. It makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

IT'S EASY TO SEE THAT THE "C. E-Z" IS THE EASIEST SEEING LIGHT YOU EVER SAW

This new gas light represents the greatest lighting development since the discovery of gas mantles.

It is easy to put on any upright fixture in your home. It can be installed at a cost of only 90c with your old shades of the type shown in the circle, or for $1.25 with an artistic new shade. It gives an abundance of illumination, 80 candlepower for only 1/3 of a cent an hour. It's just the light you need in your kitchen.

A representative will call at your home to demonstrate this new lighting wonder.

SAXON "SIX"
A big touring car for five people

Four New Ideas

Today there are four new ideas in motor car design:

- Light weight
- High speed motor
- Yacht-line body
- Increased riding comfort for all passengers.

All four of these modern ideas you find incorporated in the new Saxon "Six."

Light weight comes from right design and right materials. Nickel steel in axles, steering gear and other vital parts is lighter and stronger than ordinary carbon steel. Vanadium steel not only makes better springs but reduces their weight.

Saxon high speed motor design gets more power with less gas out of a small motor than men used to get out of big heavy motors. Besides, this is a six-cylinder motor—with the even pull and marvelous flexibility that only a "Six" can give. Except for starting the car, gear shifting is practically unknown to Saxon "Six" owners.

The yacht-line body of Saxon "Six" exemplifies the latest motor car fashion. Body finish is highest quality and floor boards and running boards are linoleum covered.

Riding comfort for all five passengers is found in the exceptional roominess of tonneau and driving compartment. Long resilient cant-lever springs make rough roads easy.

If you seek speed—Saxon "Six" has it. This car ran 490 miles from Los Angeles to San Francisco in 13 1/2 hours—15 minutes faster than the "Lark", the Southern Pacific's fastest train.

If you seek power—Saxon "Six" has demonstrated it on every famous testing hill in the country. At Uniontown, Pa., it climbed the twelve-mile mountain road in four minutes and four seconds, defeating all cars in its price class.

If you seek economy—Saxon "Six" has it. 106 "Sixes" driven home from the factory by dealers covered 23,380 miles and averaged 21 miles to the gallon.

Today in your touring car of course you want a "Six." Don't try to be content with less, when you can enjoy "Six" luxury in a well-proved Saxon for $735. Two unit electric motor, road lighting, demountable rims, Timken axles, 112" wheelbase, 32x 3 1/2" tires.

WOMAN'S PAGE

Married Life on $80 a Month

BY MISS EVA LEONARD

Before the rest come in, I want to correct a false impression that I think you have; that I gave your idea. John Sumner walked over to Julia Osgood's desk. That young lady looked up expectantly while she mechanically turned the paper into place ready to begin work.

"You remember the day Molly came down here to see me? You asked me if she was my wife," continued John.

"Surely, a very stylish looking little woman she was," remarked Julia.

"Exactly! I was deeply disgusted and took no pains to hide the fact," John smiled archly.

"Well I owe it to her to tell you that the dress I took such exceptions to was not an extravagance at all," John paused and Julia looked up expectant.

"It seems the dress was a discard of a friend of hers and Molly got it in exchange for some embroidery. She embroidered beautifully. She had remodeled the thing with such success that I never dreamed it was not new, and naturally I was a deal upset to have her spend money for a silk dress under the circumstances."

John turned and looked out of the window. "I thought you said she could not sew exclaimed Julia. "That dress was well made."

"Oh, she did not have to alter it much," I presume. Besides she has been taking great pains to learn to sew; has been trying to help in many ways, and she had this dress up her sleeve as a great surprise, and when she sprang it on me, I said cruel things to her; broke her all up in fact," John stopped speaking but remained facing the window.

"Men don't understand women," remarked Julia after a pause. John wheeled and looked at her. "I often think the marvel is not that there are so many divorcees, but that there are not more. We look at life from such different angles. What is of vital importance to one is all in the sequence at all."

John took a few turns up and down the office and pausing before Julia's desk he blurted out, "I believe you are right. How can I help things."

"That is putting one's self in the other's place. I suppose that is hard to do. That is why tact is so much praised. It is no credit to do easy things." She smiled and fell to writing rattling off the letters.

John went to his desk and sat down with his head in his hands. Ever since the day when she had learned the truth about the dress he had been haunted with a sense of his own shortcomings in regard to making Molly happy, and Julia's words had only added to his sense of failure.

As they were leaving the office John said:

"I wish you could come around and eat on Molly sometime. If you knew her perhaps you could put me wise sometimes when I am wrongheaded."

"I should like to know her for my own sake but I have very little time to go anywhere. Why don't you bring her around to see me?"

"The boy keeps up at home a great deal evenings, but we must make arrangements to meet. I will talk it over with Molly. Goodbye." And he ran down the steps and walked briskly homeward.

"Things are getting better then," thought Julia. "I'm glad."

CARRIE JACOBS BOND SENDS WORDS OF THE SONGS SHE RENDERED

Former Janesville Resident Now Famous in World Music Remembers Recent Visit Here.

Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond, a former resident of Janesville, now famous in the world of music, has sent the Gazette the words of some of the songs she rendered before the high school students during her recent visit here. She states that in view of the many requests for the words of the music she is most glad to send them to her Janesville friends through the medium of the Gazette.

Mrs. Bond makes her headquarters in Chicago, where she has a music publishing house conducted by her son, who has been much written and talked of in various publications. Her letter to the Gazette is as follows:

During my visit to Janesville after your publication of my morning at the high school, there were several requests to me for the complete verses of the songs which I sang. It is a great pleasure for me to send them to you, hoping that you will find space in your paper for them.

The "Half Minute Songs" were:

"Before you have said it about them, ask yourself if you'd like them to know (you said it)."

"She said she thought 'twas so; they said they guessed it was true, and so the story started out to break a heart or two."

"The 'lucky' fellow gets up at five (A. M.) and he generally works till ten (P. M.). But the other fellow, not quite so 'lucky' works hard—but now and then!"

Play Make-Believe.

Let's play a game with Make-believe, And keep him 'round a while, And when we feel all sad and glum, Play Make-believe and smile; And when the world seems cold and dark,

And some folks seem untrue, Play Make-believe this winter's all right. And folks are all right, too.

I've played the game of Make-believe For many, many years, And smiled and laughed with Make-believe To cover up my tears.

Till now this game of Make-believe Has come so close to me, That I can almost Make-believe The best is all I see.

A Song of the Hills.

All thro' the mist of the dawning All thro' the mountain space, All thro' the valley's glimmer, I see your loving face.

All thro' the sunrise beauty, All thro' the mists that rise, All thro' the shadows falling, I look into your eyes.

All thro' the sunset's glory, Out in the lovely west, I hear your low voice singing, Your hands press my own, and I rest.

Got to Practice.

Here I am my mother dear, I come quickly when I hear Your sweet voice calling me, You're as kind as kind can be; Mother dear, can I do Any little thing for you? Any little thing for you?

Got to practice, Oh, dear me, I'm as tired as I can be, Mother dear, can't you see You shouldn't do this to me? Thirty minutes, do you say? Thirty minutes every day? Dreadful thing for you to do, When I am so kind to you.

Do You Remember?

Do you remember the days in the mountains? Do you remember the mist on the lake? Do you remember the scent of the wild flowers? And are these memories still memories of me?

Do you remember the dew on the fern leaves? Down by the brook that flows on to the sea? Do you remember the song sung to gether? And thus remembering, think sometimes of me.

Do you remember the days in the mountains? Do you remember the sky's wonderful blue? Do you remember the meadow lark's singing? To me, these memories are memories of you.

Do you remember the song of the cricket? And the soft moonbeams afloat on the hill? Do you remember the soft winds sighing? Down thru the canons so peaceful and still?

Remember, Remember, Altho' we're apart, Thru silence and distance You still hold my heart.

A Perfect Day.

When you come to the end of a perfect day, And when you sit alone with your thoughts, While the chimes ring out with a carol gay, For the joy that the day has brought, Do you think what the end of a perfect day.

Can mean to a tired heart,

THE TABLE.

Flour Cakes—One and three-fourths cups flour, one cup granulated sugar, two teaspoons baking powder, pinch of salt. Sift dry ingredients three times through flour sifter. Put whites of two eggs unbeaten in measuring cup, add enough small, soft pieces of butter to half fill. Fill balance of cup with hot milk and half water. Add wet ingredients to dry and beat five minutes; when done add flavoring. Bake in flat pan in moderate oven. Frost according to your desire.

Five-Minute Cake—A good cake for a beginner. One cup granulated sugar, one and one-half cups sifted flour, two teaspoons baking powder. Put in bowl, make a cavity in center, add five tablespoons melted butter. Break two eggs in measuring cup, fill with milk, then add slowly to flour with one teaspoon vanilla. Beat thoroughly five minutes. Bake in two layers or square tin. Frosting: One cup confectioner's sugar, one tablespoon butter. Cream together and add enough maple syrup to spread easily. This frosting can be changed to different kinds. By adding just milk to the sugar and butter makes the butter cream; by adding cocoa you have the chocolate frosting. Flavoring with orange or lemon juice is also very good.

Pecan Breakfast Muffins—One and a half cups flour, sifted with a teaspoonful of baking powder, one egg, one teaspoonful salt, one cup milk; beat together for five minutes; add two cups rolled pecan nuts and bake in hot gem pans. Sprinkle some of the nuts on top before baking.

Heart and Home Problems

Letters May Be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of The Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been sick for a year. I had a nervous breakdown and everything makes me nervous yet. My husband knew this before we were married, but insisted on being married as soon as I was up after my nervous spell. Now he does many things that work on my nerves. He says things and does things that I don't like to have him say or do. I love him, very much and I don't like to have him say or do things that I don't like to have him say or do. I just shake all over. He says he loves me and he is very affectionate when he has not one of those nervous spells. Please tell me what I can do so that he will not talk that way?

Please suggest something that I could do that would give me something to do so that I don't care to read. NELLIE-MAY.

You ought to tell your husband how nervous he makes you by the things he says, but if you cannot stand the strain, ask your doctor to tell him that thought of love helps one bear almost anything. When he makes you nervous think how much you love him and how love you rather than the disagreeable thing he is saying.

Outdoor work is the best possible cure for nervousness. Unfortunately this is not the time of the year to make gardens. You might content yourself until spring by doing light housework and crocheting. Whatever you do do not overtax your strength.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am twenty-five years old, am in business for myself, prospering daily, have no one to care for but myself, but I am not happy. About a year ago I noticed a little blonde whose face displayed that she was jolly, and always ready for a good time, continued meeting her from that day to this, three times a day, and have learned, by following her, that she is employed in an office of a reliable first-class drug store, and have tried, without success, to meet her, but she is very refined, and shows no signs of flirtation, and though I have seen her with many different girls and boys, and am acquainted with any of them, this little girl is not staying with her people, as I have heard, and I would gladly take her to be my wife and give her a good home, if I could only win her. How can I meet her? I must meet her! Should I walk up to her and give the introduction myself?

CLARENCE.

Make your home in the boarding house where the girl stays or work in the drug store for a while, the way heroes do in books. I know of a case like yours where the man got acquainted with his heart's desire by taking a stray cat to the girl's home. It was summer time and he caught her sitting on the front porch. The whole thing was so funny that they at once became friends.

Perhaps you can think of something clever to do.

"Young Mother." (1) Consult a doctor at once about the hiccoughing. (2) As at the departure of a lady, she shown some headscarves. They are made of various materials and sold at different prices. By looking at them you can tell best what you want.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am eighteen and am in love with a fellow at twenty-seven. He has offered me presents many times, but never have I accepted them. Do you think it would be all right if I accepted one of his presents at Christmas time? My parents do not like to have me go with him and every time they see me with him they scold me. What would you do if you were in my place? Go with him and accept a present or not?

A BROKEN-HEARTED LONESOME GIRL.

Perhaps your parents judgment and don't go with him or accept presents.

HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

WHO OWNS THE PRESCRIPTION?

Your prescription is yours to keep. Legally, the pharmacist who fills it must retain a copy—not the original. When he insists upon retaining the original he generally does so with the purpose of forcing you to return to his store in case your prescription is to be refilled. But the courts have declared the prescription the patient's property. So it is up to the patient to keep it, if he so desires.

Of course the doctor usually retains a carbon copy, too, and it seems advisable to have the prescription refilled he can give you another copy if necessary.

The words non-repetatur written or printed on a prescription mean, Let it not be repeated. When a druggist consents to refill a prescription which he has lost, he is beyond the pale and unworthy of confidence.

Recently we came across a queer concoction which had a well-known physician's name on the label. We took it to a doctor, but it was not repudiated anything like it in his life. Some one had copied, and some one else had recopied until the prescription had lost every original character but the doctor's name.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Intestinal Indigestion.

Our boy, aged three, has chronic intestinal indigestion, and, often, feverish, sick stomach, like worms. Please advise.

Answer—Gladly, on receipt of stamped, addressed envelope.

Washing Eyes with Strengthening Sight.

Is there any eye-wash which will strengthen the eyesight?

Answer—No.

Should a baby eighteen months be taken for a ride when the thermometer is below 40°?

Answer—By all means, yes.

When the sun goes down with a flaming ray, And the dear friends have to part?

Well, this is the end of a perfect day, And the end of a journey, too; But it leaves a thought that is big and strong, With a wish that is kind and true. For memory has painted this perfect day.

With colors that never fade, And we find, at the end of a perfect day, The soul of a friend we've made.

Yours, truly, Carrie Jacobs-Bond.

Household Hints

DRIED PUMPKIN.

Dried pumpkin had for pies all summer. On a farm lives a culinary genius who, in July, takes delicious pumpkin pies to picnics. This is how she dries the pumpkin, to preserve the original flavor.

Cut a pumpkin into pieces and remove the rind and seeds. Put in a pot with enough water to keep it from burning. Stew until dry and thoroughly done; this will take three or four hours. Press the pulp through a colander and form into thin cakes the size of a shallow cookie. Place these cakes in shallow pans and dry for several days, about the stove. They will then look like small dried bits of old leather and will keep indefinitely. A stone crock in a dry place is best for them. One medium sized pumpkin will make enough dried pumpkin for about seven pies. The cakes are soaked in boiling water over night, then beaten and used as fresh pumpkin.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

SKIN of serge, panama, etc., become slick and shiny-looking before they are nearly worn out. Place skirt on a board and rub shiny places with a cloth. This will turn long just enough to rough up the nap.

To start a fire quickly, don't use coal! Mix ten cents' worth of crude oil with sawdust. A half cup of the mixture will ignite easily with a match and will burn long enough to get the wood or coal ablaze.

Now that crocheting is such a fad, when working wear a black apron, spread a black cloth over the lap; relieves the tension brought to bear upon the eyes.

When putting paraffin on jelly he sure to have the paraffin on thick, up to top of glass, and jelly will not work out the top.

NOYES RAESSLER GIVES TALK AT TRAINING SCHOOL

Noyes Raessler of Beloit gave an address on the raising of pedigree corn at the Rock County teachers' training school Thursday afternoon which proved interesting and instructive. Mr. Raessler had several specimens of first class seed corn which he displayed. He will give an illustrated talk at a later date to the training school students.

A New Method of Baking Cakes

Mrs. Nevada Briggs, the baking expert, says:

"There is just one way to make your cakes rise high and evenly—give them time to rise before a crust is formed and the batter is stiffened by cooking."

"If using a gas, gasoline or oil stove, light your oven when you put the cake in and keep the flame low until the cake has doubled in bulk; then increase the heat until it is evenly browned and, will respond to the pressure of the finger. If using a coal or wood range, leave the oven door open until the cake is in; then turn on the drafts and by the time the oven is at baking temperature, the cake will have raised sufficiently."

For rich, moist, feathery cakes Mrs. Briggs always recommends

KC BAKING POWDER

It is double acting and sustains the raise. You can open and close the oven door, turn the tin around in the oven or do anything else necessary, without any danger of making the cake fall.

Try your favorite cake next time with K C Baking Powder and see how much higher it will rise. Make it just as you always do, with the same quantity of baking powder. While K C is less expensive than the old fashioned baking powders, it has even greater leavening strength and it is guaranteed pure and healthful.

GASOLINE IS SHIPPED TO GERMANY IN CEMENT BLOCKS FROM HOLLAND
(By Associated Press.)
The Hague, Oct. 12.—New devices for smuggling contraband into Germany are being continually brought to light by the Dutch frontier officials. The latest discovery is that a trainload of concrete building blocks bound for Belgium contained several thousand gallons of gasoline. The blocks were hollow, each one providing a receptacle for eight gallons of oil. A week ago, shipment of tombstones required for marking the graves of German soldiers was examined and it was discovered that the tombstones were hollow and filled with benzine. Several wagonloads had crossed the frontier before the trick was uncovered.
Exams. at High School: Students at the high school have been busy this week with mid-semester examinations. The reports will be sent out next week to all the parents of the students.

Thursday's Markets.
Chicago, Nov. 12.—This week's receipts of hogs will reach at least 160,000, being largest total in eight months.
Yesterday's swine market closed 10c lower than Wednesday, the average being 43c lower than Monday and within 12c of year's low day.
Swift bought a drove of light mixed, 18c the average, at $6.40, the lowest day's killing bought by any packer.
Curtailed cattle receipts and an improved shipping demand strengthened yesterday's market, with the tendency higher.
Sheep Supply Immense.
Forty thousand sheep and lambs in forty-eight hours was a big surprise to the trade, resulting in a further break in prices. Top lambs yesterday $9.15, against $9.35 Tuesday.
Average price of hogs at Chicago was $6.58, against $6.67 Wednesday, $6.88 a week ago and $8.01 two years ago.
Range Cattle Scarcer.
Shipping demand for cattle shows improvement, and traders are looking for higher prices next week, more especially on better grades. Western

THE IMMENSE

McNamara $25,000 Hardware Stock

BEING SLAUGHTERED

BY ORDER OF THE COURT

SO AS TO SETTLE THE ESTATE

When the administrator ordered us to sell this immense stock we felt that it was a tremendous undertaking, and we knew that in order to accomplish it, the prices on this highest grade of hardware would have to be cut, slashed, even murdered in order to move it quick. Results have shown us that we were correct in our judgment. Such an outpouring of people seeking to save money was never seen in a hardware store in this state, and the sale goes merrily on. Dimes mean dollars and dollars we are saving the people. Just look at this list of prices below and see what we are doing in this great, big cut-to-the-bone price carnival. SALE RUNS TO SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 20th.
